Reagan to Gorbachev: Threat from ET's would unite Earth

FALLSTON, Md. (AP) — President Reagan revealed Wednesday that his discussions with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev touched not only on "Star Wars," but the extraterrestrial.

In an address to students at Fallston High School here, Reagan departed from his prepared remarks to say that in his private discussions with Gorbachev at last month's Geneva summit, he noted that "we're all God's children."

"I couldn't help but say to him, just think how easy his task and mine might be in these meetings that we held if suddenly if there was a threat to this world from some other species from another planet outside in the universe," Reagan said.

The president went on to say that such an event would force himself and Gorbachev to "forget all the little local differences that we have between our countries" and they would find out "that we really are all human beings here on this Earth together."

"Well, I don't suppose we can wait for some alien race to come down and threaten us," Reagan added. "But I think that between us we can bring about that realization."

The president then ended his remarks, without giving his young audience a clue as to how Gorbachev responded.
